

I am outraged by the pending change of policy on Broadcast Ownership rules. The influence of large corporations on the objectivity of news content is pernicious. Your organisation, if it in any way stood for the interests of the American people rather than that of wealthy political contributors, it would scrap this proposed policy, work to diversify media ownership and put in place the structure for a greatly expanded public media system.